Determining Eligibility

Your Rights as a Financial Aid Recipient

The offer and acceptance of financial aid is a contract between the school and the student. It is based on certain conditions and expectations that you should clearly understand before you apply for or accept assistance. For information on the terms and conditions for receiving aid see the Student Guide online at:

<https://studentaid.gov/resources/prepare-for-college>.

Admissions Status

You must be enrolled in a Title IV eligible program and have a high school diploma or its equivalent.

Citizenship

You must be a U.S. citizen, national, or an eligible non-citizen. Generally, you may be an eligible non-citizen if you are:

- An U.S. permanent resident and have an Alien Registration Receipt Card (I-151 or I-551)
- A conditional permanent resident (I-551C)
- An eligible non-citizen with an arrival departure record (I-94) from the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service showing any one of the following designations – Refugee, Asylum Granted, Cuban-Haitian Entrant (Status Pending), Victims of human trafficking (T-visa holder), Parolee (paroled to the US for at least one year).

Default

You must not owe an overpayment of a Federal Perkins loan, or Federal grant program. You must not be in default on a federal student loan. You must not have borrowed in excess of the annual or aggregate loan limits.

Aggregate Loan Limits

You must not have borrowed in excess of the annual or aggregate loan limits.

- Independent Student's: $57,500 for undergraduates – No more than $23,000 of this amount may be in subsidized loans.
- Dependent Student's: $31,000 – No more than $23,000 of this amount may be in subsidized loans.

Enrollment

You must be enrolled during the time you receive aid and maintain satisfactory progress.

Financial Need

You must have financial need for some grant and loan programs as determined by the information you reported on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid. Need is defined as the difference between the student's Cost of Attendance and the Expected Family Contribution or EFC if applicable. For calculation of Pell, MyComputerCareer uses Pell Formula 4.

Educational Purpose

You are to use funds received solely for education or educationally related purposes.

Applying

File Application

To determine eligibility for financial aid programs, you must complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) every year for the academic year¹ for which you expect aid. The FAFSA becomes available for the subsequent year each fall (Fall, 2020 for 2021-2022 Award Year, for example).

Tips When Completing the FAFSA

- FAFSA Website: <https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa>
- You (and parent, if dependent) will need a FSA ID and Password to complete/access the FAFSA.
- Enter your name and social security number exactly as it appears on your social security card. The FAFSA process will verify your name, social security number, date of birth and citizenship status with the Social Security Administration's database.
- If you are using parent information, ensure at least one of your parent's social security numbers are entered.
- Enter the correct Facility Code:

○ Arlington..... E40446	○ HoustonE02192
○ Charlotte E40447	○ Indianapolis041210
○ Columbus..... 041245	○ RaleighG42065
○ Dallas E02191	○ Sugar LandE40519
- Your FAFSA will be rejected if the signature (and parent signature, if dependent) is not completed.
- Use your prior, prior year's tax return(s) for the application. For example, 2019 Federal Income Tax Return information when completing your 2021/2022 Award Year FAFSA and/or 2020 Federal Income Tax Return for your 2022/2023 Award Year FAFSA.

¹ an academic year is defined as 36 FA QCH's and or 30/42 Weeks based on the enrollment schedule.

FAFSA Information

The FAFSA gathers information regarding the student's and parent's income, assets and other related information to determine the Expected Family Income (EFC). It is recommended the applicant use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool to import financial information into the FAFSA. The applicant can also have their tax return available to supply this information. However, you do not need to file your tax income return before submitting the form and you can estimate the information.

FAFSA Status

To check on the status of the FAFSA with the CPS, go to <https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa> or telephone the U.S. Department of Education Student Aid Information Center at (800) 433-3243. TTY users may call (800) 730-8913. Always retain a file for copies of everything you complete, submit and receive related to financial aid.

Receive Your Student Aid Report

After Central Processing System (CPS) has received and processed your FAFSA with signatures, you will be sent a Student Aid Report (SAR) via your email address. You can also access your SAR online. If there is any incorrect information, you may make changes to your FAFSA online.

Upon receipt of the FAFSA information, a financial aid administrator will determine if additional documents are needed to either document your eligibility or verify your income, household or dependency status.

Your responsibilities are:

- Turn in all documents in a timely manner
- Be sure all documents are signed and complete
- Keep copies of all information submitted

Upon receipt of the FAFSA and all requested documents, a financial aid administrator will determine your eligibility for financial aid and provide the student with an Award Letter.

College Financing Plan

During the enrollment process and prior to signing an enrollment agreement, the Financial Planning department will provide you with a College Financing Plan (CFP). The CFP is a customized document which provides detailed information regarding the program of interest, cost of attendance, cost of program, and estimated funding based on eligibility and general entitlement to various sources of aid. The COA is adjusted to account for transfer credit, length of program, and is available upon request.

Student Eligibility Criteria

Upon receipt of your FAFSA by the CPS, some of the information on your FAFSA will be checked with federal agencies to determine if your application meets the basic student eligibility criteria. You may need to submit additional documents for verification of student eligibility status if the results require additional follow up by a financial aid administrator. The student eligibility criteria are checked/verified when completing a FAFSA:

- Social Security numbers and Citizenship status with Social Security Administration
- Eligible non-citizen status with US Department of Homeland Security
- Veteran status with US Department of Veteran's Affairs
- Federal student loan status of default, bankruptcy, disability discharge, overpayment or aggregate loan limits with the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS)

Verification

Verification is the process of checking the accuracy of the household, income and asset information reported on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Applicants may be selected for review based on incorrect or conflicting information identified through correspondence, appeal requests, or other review methods. Please reference the Financial Aid Planning Policy and Procedure Manual for specific details. The applicant may be required to submit copies of the student's and parent's tax returns, if dependent, or spouse's tax returns, if married, in addition to completing a Verification Worksheet detailing household size and other information. Additional documentation may be requested based on incorrect or conflicting information.

When a student is selected for Verification, the Financial Aid Planning Team will communicate this information to the applicant via verbal or email communication. Documents that need to be completed for verification will be provided via email communication. The applicant may need to make changes to their FAFSA or provide documentation allowing the administrators to make those changes. Changes to the applicants Estimated Family Contribution (EFC) and/or Cost of Attendance (COA) will also be communicated verbally or via email communication by either the Financial Aid Planning Department (pre-enrollment) or the Financial Services Department (post enrollment).

Upon receiving the Verification worksheet, the student will complete the form per the Department of Education's guidelines.

Verification documents supplied by the school are often self-explanatory but financial aid personnel are available to offer verbal and/or email assistance to further explain what documents are being requested, per the Department of Education's requirements. Verification documentation provided to the school may be delivered in person, mail, email, DocuSign, or fax.

It is important that documentation is supplied in a timely manner so MyComputerCareer can complete the verification process before the student's scheduled start date. Failure to do so may cause the applicant to miss their intended start date.

As a result of the final review of the student's verification file, subsequent ISIRs can be produced. Once the final cleared verification file is received, the student's awards may change because of the verification review. Within 3-5 business days of receiving the cleared and final verification file the Financial Aid Analysts will contact the student alerting them of any change to their award. The Financial Aid Analyst will either call and/or email the student informing them of the change. A revised award letter is also sent to the student because of the award change. Subsequent ISIR's are received and evaluated by the Financial Services Department weekly. The Financial Services Department will notify a student if additional information is needed after a revised ISIR is received and reviewed.

Under Federal Code 668.16(g) MyComputerCareer personnel should report to the Director of Financial Services (DFS) any credible information indicating that an applicant engaged in fraud or other criminal misconduct in connection with his/her application. The DFS will then refer the information for investigation to the Office of Inspector General of the Department of Education.

Dealing with Unusual Circumstances

Appeals Process

On a case-by-case basis and consistent with federal guidelines, MyComputerCareer may consider a student's special circumstances to either increase or decrease data elements used to calculate a student's expected family contribution (EFC) for educational expenses, or to add expenses to a student's budgeted cost of attendance (COA). These adjustments affect only need-based aid. Once a Professional Judgement is determined to be requested and documentation is provided, the Financial Services Department will be notified. Upon review, the Financial Services Department is expected and required to make reasonable decisions that support the intent of the federal guidelines regarding Professional Judgment. The decision of the Financial Services Department is both discretionary and final; there is no appeal process to the U.S. Department of Education. This policy sets forth guidelines regarding how Professional Judgment in Financial Services will be exercised at MyComputerCareer.

Special Circumstances that may warrant a Professional Judgement:

- Dependency Override
- Change in Earnings/Untaxed Income/Benefits
- Divorce/Separation/Death of a Spouse or Parent
- Unusually High Medical or Dental Expenses NOT covered by Insurance
- Unemployment/Disability
- Roller Exclusion
- Tuition Expenses at an Elementary or Secondary School
- Nursing Home Expenses NOT covered by insurance
- Unusually High Childcare or Dependent Care Costs
- Dislocated Worker Status of a Family Member
- Received a one-time income distribution
- Housing Status of a Student had resulted in homelessness
- Local Disaster (hurricane, earthquake, etc.)
- Other

Unreasonable Professional Judgement Examples:

- Mortgages/Rent
- Auto Loans/Insurance/Repairs
- Credit Card Debt (consumer debt)
- Educational Debt (consumer debt)
- Chapter 7 & 11, Personal Bankruptcy
- Medical Insurance Premiums
- Vacation Expenses
- Standard Living Expenses
- Parents refuse to contribute to the student's education
- Parents are unwilling to provide information on the FAFSA or for verification

- Parents do not claim the student as a dependent for income tax purposes
- Student demonstrates total self-sufficiency
- Other

If a student or prospective student believes he or she has a situation that would qualify as a special circumstance that may lead to a professional judgment, the student or prospective student should alert the Financial Planning Department prior to enrollment. The Financial Planning Department will help facilitate the request and collect relevant professional judgement documentation.

Professional Judgement documentation can include any documentation that supports the special circumstances. The Financial Planning Department will submit the Professional Judgement to FAS for review. When FAS approves the Professional Judgement, the Financial Aid Analyst will review the Financial Aid File. If the Professional Judgement is rejected by FAS, the Financial Aid Counselor will notify the student of the decision. Requirements are set forth by a third-party servicer and the Department of Education
